

THE QUEER QUAKER AND HIS QUEER WAY

DR. ROBERTS AND HIS EVANSVILLE EXPERIENCE.

The Wedding at the County Fair Led Him to Think of Being Married in an Evansville Public Hall For the Benefit of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Dr. W. P. Roberts, whose damage suit in the circuit court has just been decided, settled in Evansville in 1884, moving there from Barrington. The editors of the two weekly papers were amongst his first callers to secure his aid. He bought the space and paid for it, simply announcing that he was a homeopathic physician, and where he could be found. Not long had he been there before one of the editors published in his local column, "Another doctor come to town, and another addition will be in order to our cemetery." This was soon followed by a short local in the other paper coming from the grave stone man in Barrington and reading, "If Dr. R. has as good success in E. as he did for eight years in B. there will be no need of enlarging the cemetery on his account for he is the kind that cures the sick and cheats the undertaker and monument maker." While in practice in Evansville if there was money to be raised for charity, church, philanthropy or political purposes the doctor was never in the rear, and when put in charge of raising money there was never any lack of funds to complete the object it was designed to carry out.

Fair Wedding Made Him Think

In 1887 he attended the Rock county fair to witness the unique marriage ceremony of the couple who were competing for the prize offered by the management in order to attract patrons to attend the fair. This put a new idea into the doctor's head, and the next year when he was about to marry a sister to the fair one who braved the stare of a promiscuous crowd at the county fair to win an outfit for housekeeping, instead of trying to win any other prize than the popular school teacher who was so well and favorably known in different localities he hit upon a plan to help increase the treasury of the W. R. C. lodge of Evansville. He knew of the supper the ladies of that lodge were frequently getting up to raise money, so he suggested to the president the novelty of a "Quaker wedding" knowing that such a marriage in Wisconsin would be legal. The owners of the two halls were asked to help, and as the people were informed of the event it grew in favor until an enemy of the doctor's saw what he thought to be an opportunity to get in his work so had the doctor arrested and started for Janesville for stealing. While enroute a mutual friend learned that there had been no stealing done and suggested the "Quaker way" of a settlement by arbitration which was conceded to readily. After the affair had been settled and the doctor acquitted of doing any wrong, however, there appeared a long article in the Chicago Herald to the effect that a "Quaker Thief" was about to be married in Evansville in public.

Long Stories in Chicago Papers.

At this point A. S. Baker informed the Herald of their mistake in publishing the article, and they sent their foremost reporter to investigate. Thus it was the "Quaker wedding" became so widely known. "I was raised a Quaker," said Dr. Roberts to-day, "and I am proud of my record as peculiar as it may seem to others, for I have always stood for right, and chipped in with my ax let the chips fall wherever they will." Dr. Roberts now finds himself associated with a large number of the foremost men of the nation in promoting the greatest charity ever yet instituted. Amongst them is Hon. A. P. Lovejoy, of this city. The officers are Rufus L. Thurston, M. D. president; George H. Richter, first vice president; Hezekiah Butterworth, second vice president; W. P. Roberts, M. D., secretary; A. B. Upham, president.

The American Invalid Aid society has already done much good work and is now so thoroughly organized that it is hard to calculate the great good it will accomplish in the near future.

GREEN FIELDS AT THE GROVE

Rains Saturday and Monday Did Much to Start Vegetation.

EMERALD GROVE, May 1.—The heavy rain of Saturday was a starter for grass and grain. The shower Monday and continued warm weather did much to make the fields green. Considerable wind blew during the rain Monday, but no particular damage done. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morgan visited in the grove last week. Gillies & Jones have some fine 15c satines. A number of the people from the Congregational church will attend the Christian Endeavor convention at Beloit on Friday, May 4. The next stereopticon series at the Congregational church will be on Sunday evening, May 13. The remains of Mrs. John G. Davis, of La Prairie, who died on Sunday morning, were interred in the cemetery here on Tuesday. Three small children are left to mourn the loss of a kind mother. Mrs. W. F. Goodrich is confined to her bed with an attack of pneumonia. Robert More, as chairman of the county board, would be a choice no one would regret. He is in every way capable

CADWALLADER TELLS HIS STORY.

Superior Bank President Placed on the Witness Stand.

In the Cadwallader embezzlement case in the federal court the defendant ex-president of the Superior National bank occupied the witness stand in his own behalf. He went fully into the details of the organization of the bank and the arrangements leading up to it. He disclaimed being the prime mover in the enterprise and claimed that Charles A. Tracy, C. H. Alvord and others of Superior, and Dr. Abbott, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., were the ones who were pushing the enterprise. Dr. Abbott, who subscribed $50,000 was an uncle of Mr. Tracy. Cadwallader said that the Superior men were anxious to get the bank started as a means of booming their town. He exhibited several letters and telegrams, which were put in evidence, received from these and other parties in Superior during the initiatory stages of the bank's organization, going to show that they were deeply interested and took active part in these transactions. He said that he was elected by them as a capable man for the position of president of the bank.

Mr. Cadwallader was moved to tears in his examination when Colonel Spooner referred to the death of his child which occurred while Cadwallader was in jail at Janesville.

DON'T GO ALONE; ITS SELFISH.

Take Somebody with You When Mis Herndon Comes To Town.

People go to the theater now-a-days to be amused and pleased, and expect to be kept in good humor. There has never been a play written that possesses all the elements of success as much as does Agnes Herndon's great play, "La Belle Marie," or "A Woman's Revenge." Take your wife Thursday evening, and even coax your mother-in-law to have a pleasant evening with you. If you haven't a wife bring your sister, or if you haven't one, bring some other fellow's sister, and see what will be really the best and most enjoyable entertainment of the season.

DATE OF ASYLUM PARTY NOT SET

Dedication Will Take Place About the Middle of May

The date of the dedication of the new county asylum is still uncertain. The delays which are incident to the transfer of so many persons and so much property as have to be brought from the old place to the new, together with the annoyances and troubles which always accompany such an event render it impossible to announce the exact day when the exercises can be had. It will, however, be near the middle of May, and arrangements are being perfected to make the occasion one of great pleasure to all who are present. The directors of the hospital association have always kept "open house" to such unfortunate citizens of the county as needed its care and protection and they hope for a reciprocity of favors by seeing a large attendance at the opening of the new building.

BAD, BOLD PIRATES AND AN ORPHAN BOY

THEY HELD THE OPERA HOUSE STAGE.

The Audience Was Made to Feel That "a Policeman's Lot is Not a Happy One" and to Sympathize With the Woes of a Leap Year Child.—Will Play Again Tonight.

Nobody ever complained that Janesville was short on pirates, but the talented and murderous assemblage who filled out on the opera house stage last night surprised even the police. George G. Paris led the band and the advice he offered them in his down-cellar bass voice was appreciated by the audience no less than by the cutthroats. "I Am a Pirate Chief" was given with great effect. On either side of the chief marched Lieutenants John B. Waldo and William Garbutt, who sang with zest of scuttling ships and murdering muscular mariners. As a contrast to this lawless element was Dr. W. F. Hoyt, "the model of a modern major general." Dr. Hoyt wore iron gray hair and a red coat with fitting dignity, and sang the part of General Stanley in very satisfactory fashion. Harry Robinson supported the general with a force of London policemen who came in at an opportune moment and sang a stirring chorus that the audience insisted on hearing more of. Charles T. Barnes divided his time between law and piracy, as befitted a man with "a sense of duty." As Frederick, the pirate apprentice, he was at his best, singing and acting with fire and enthusiasm.

The four leading parts carried by ladies were well interpreted. Mrs. E. L. McHenry as Mabel, General Stanley's youngest daughter, showed a pure soprano voice of great range, accompanied by much skill as an actress. Ruth, the pirate maid-of-all-work, lost none of her charm and none of her Gilbertian humor through Mrs. C. L. Clark's presentation. Miss Marie Wilcox and Franc Edwards were cast as the other two of General Stanley's pretty daughters. Supporting the principals were these choruses:

Pirates—H. F. Nott, Ed. O. Smith, Charles Johnson, R. H. Barlow, W. F. Denniston, James Selark, Ed. G. Davis, J. H. Rehberg, W. J. Baumann Herbert Totten.

Police—J. M. Grove, Fred Grove, Charles T. Peirce, Frank Brown, Manley Hemmens, George Robinson, Fred Miner, Ed. C. Baumann.

Major-General Stanley's Daughters—Kate Morrissey, Cora Anderson, Lottie Pabst, Bertha Winslow, Jennie Dudley, Alleta Williams, Evaline Breese, Johanna Pabst, Dot Currier, Francis Shekey, Frieda Pabst, Mrs. Will Davis.

Mrs. W. T. Sherer and Mrs. Mary Stever furnished piano accompaniment, while Mrs. C. B. Conrad who has given much time to the production, wielded the baton. The audience was not as large as had been hoped for, but the lower part of the house was well filled. Tonight the performance will be repeated and tomorrow night the company go to Beloit. Oak Lawn hospital gets the profit from the Janesville engagement.

MAY PARTY WAS A SUCCESS.

Railroad Men Had a Good Time At Their Annual Party.

The "May Party" given last evening at the Armory, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen was a flattering success and was enjoyed by a company of nearly one hundred and fifty couples. The Armory had been beautifully decorated with flowers, curtains and other draperies, and seldom looked more beautiful. Smith's orchestra furnished the inspiration for the dancers, supper being served at Golling's and at Con. McDonald's restaurants. Jay Walker, A. R. Tallmadge, J. E. Kay, J. C. Morris, J. H. Falter, H. H. St. John had charge of the arrangements, while the floor was ably managed by Henry Brazzel, J. Crowley, B. White, H. G. Ebbets, W. A. Tallmadge, H. L. Nichols, F. L. Church.

FARM WORK IS VERY EARLY.

Corn Planted Two Weeks Before the Usual Time This Year.

The past week has been an exceptionally favorable one for farming; the warmth and sunshine caused vigorous growth of all sown grain, and vegetation generally, while the lack of rain and storm gave the farmers a week in which to finish the seeding of small grain and make good progress in plowing for corn and potatoes. Wheat, oats and barley have been sown in all southern and central counties and much work has been done in the northern, where, with favorable weather, the small grain will be out of the way for corn and potato plowing and planting this week. Early seeding is up and growing finely. Oats especially are reported thick and strong. Winter wheat is still improving under favorable weather.

Ground is rapidly being prepared for corn and some planting has been done. Throughout the southern and central counties the planting will be general by the last of this week or the first of the coming week, and within ten days in northern parts, which is at least two weeks earlier than usual. Should late frosts appear, however, the early planting may prove disastrous. Potato ground, in common with corn, is being prepared, and many early potatoes have been planted. A large acreage is assured.

Pastures have made a fine growth; cattle are being turned out in the southern counties, and will be on the grass in all sections by the end of the week, which is thought to be from ten days to two weeks earlier than the usual season.

Tobacco ground is being fertilized in anticipation of later setting.

Fruit trees are just bursting into bloom in extreme southern parts. Reports continue very favorable. Forest trees are just budding and they will be in full leaf within two weeks.

WATER GRIEVANCES NEXT WEEK.

Committee Will Be Ready to Report by Next Monday.

The special committee on water works grievances not being ready to report no action was taken on the subject Monday evening by the Business Men's association. The committee informed the association that their report would be ready next Monday evening. This being the regular monthly meeting night, other important business will come up.

"Action will be taken in regard to celebrating the Fourth of July," said President Vankirk today. "Quite a number of business men as well as citizens generally, are anxious to have a celebration here, and many think it is not too early to set the ball rolling in that direction. Janesville can and ought to get up a big celebration, and I believe she will."

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

"Matrimony" Pastor Cole's Theme.

"Matrimony" was the subject of Rev. J. D. Cole's lecture before the Epworth League of the First M. E. church last evening. Mr. Cole convinced his hearers that he had chosen a fruitful subject upon which he had given patient study. He gave the young people some excellent advice, and his lecture was full of apt anecdotes and illustrations.

The "Irish potato" grows wild in the mountains of Chili and Peru, where it is undoubtedly indigenous.

The cactus opuntia, or prickly pear, supposed to be an American plant, grows wild in Greece and Italy and is found in abundance in the lava of Mount Aetna.

The sugar cane is mentioned by Strabo as known in India as early as 325 B. C. It was then used in its raw state, no method being known of extracting the sugar.

The Jerusalem artichoke did not come from Jerusalem at all. It is known to be an American plant, growing wild in many parts of the Western hemisphere.

The sweet potato is supposed to be an American plant, but is now cultivated all over the tropical world. It is a leading article of diet in the center of the Dark Continent.

Standard of Intelligence Among Chicago Ward Politicians Graphically Illustrated—A Tired Papa—The Prevailing Fashion—Sharp Points.

WOTOUGH WARD politicians stood in front of a north side saloon the other day engaged in animated conversation. "It ain't no use tellin' me," exclaimed the man with the ragged cap, "that Elligandry is in Afriky. Durn it all, it's in Egypt! Anybody that knows anything at all knows it's in Egypt!" "That's all right," snarled the other. "If you knowed anything about jography you'd know it wasn't within a thousand miles of Egypt. It's in Afriky. I've seen it on the map mo'n a hundred times."

"You can't tell where Afriky is to save your life!"

"You ain't got no more idea where Egypt is than if you were on the other side of the moon."

"Egypt on the Nile, you—"

"Look out! Don't you call no names!"

"Well, you tell me where Afriky is! Jest you tell me where Afriky is, if you know so all-fired much!"

"Afriky's right on the equator. Runs along on both sides of it. It's where the Africans live. If you'd ever seen an Egyptian you'd knowed he wasn't an African fur as you could see 'im."

"Say, I'll tell you wot I'll do with you! We'll go right in here to Greif's saloon, and if he's got a map I'll leave it to him."

"I'll do it."

"And if his map says it's in Egypt the drinks is on you?"

"That's right."

They went inside the saloon, and when the policeman on that beat softly entered the place an hour afterward the two men were seated at a table in one corner of the room with a faded old map between them, thirsty beyond the power of man to describe, wild eyed with anger and still wrangling.—Chicago Tribune.

Yum-Yum—Very.

"There, dear," remarked the young wife, who was trying 'love in a cottage,' just after the lapse of the honeymoon, while she sat with her husband at the breakfast table, "you forgot to get the sugar yesterday, so you have none for breakfast."

"Oh, yes, I have. I've got gon."

"But you can't sweeten your coffee with me," she said, with a love-light in her eye.

"Maybe not; but I can sweeten my life with you."

"How nice that sounds," she said; "just like books."—Toledo Blade.

Against the Rules.

Aluminum Yachts.

Two examples of aluminum built yachts are at present to be seen in French waters. One is the ten ton yacht Vendessa, launched recently from the stocks of the Societe de Chantiers de la Loire. The other is a 33 foot sailing boat. The former craft has been built for the well-known French yachtsman, Comte de Chabannes, La Palice, from the designs of M. V. Greilloux. It is computed that if this vessel had been constructed of steel frame and wood planking, like other boats of her class, her hull would have weighed some 4 tons 5 cwt., but in aluminum the weight is only some 2 tons 6 cwt. The other craft referred to is named the Jules Davoust, and with it Lieut. Hourst intends to set out on a survey expedition on the Niger. This craft affords additional proof of the great suitability of aluminum as the structural material for boats intended for exceptional purposes, such as river survey and exploration. The boat complete only weighs 18 cwt., a fact which sufficiently indicates the extreme portability of the craft when overland transport is involved.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place, in war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows: "Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1892. Catarrh AND GOLD IN THE HEAD

relieved instantly by one application of Birney's Catarrh Powder

REV. FATHER CLARKE, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes: "Catarrh—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic or it. The good sisters speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the Hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering. M. E. FERGUSON, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes: "Catarrh—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Dr. Birney's Catarrhal Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 16 inches from my ear. I took upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve. SUSPENSE IS WHAT KILLS.

Business can eventually adjust itself to whatever sort of a change is made in the tariff by the Wilson bill.

It is the suspense which kills. If delay would defeat the bill there would be some excuse for it, but as the most sagacious republicans and protectionist democrats concede that the measure will probably be passed some time in this session, it were better that it be passed a month or two hence than four or five months later.

Until the uncertainty ends and the bill is got out of the way either by its defeat or its enactment the trade revival can not come. Improvement in some degree would be likely to take place even if the bill dragged along in congress through the whole year, for stocks of goods on hand are abnormally low and consumption cannot be altogether cut off, but no marked and permanent change for the better is possible until the bill is disposed of in one way or the other. Consequently final action should be had at the earliest practicable day.

WHO IS TO BLAME FOR COXEY?

The principal blame for the Coxe movement rests upon the democratic party. For many years the speeches of its orators, the articles of its editors, and the resolutions of its conventions have persistently represented that the government was being conducted in the interest of favored classes and against the welfare of the majority. Federal laws of great importance and general advantage have been loosely stigmatized as atrocities of partiality and injustice; and the inequalities of personal fortune that exist always and everywhere have been gravely and indignantly attributed to an alleged conspiracy for the impoverishment of the many for the benefit of the few. The minds of the illiterate and thoughtless have been poisoned with a feeling of contempt for the rights of property, as well as for the authority by which society is maintained.

It is not surprising that such causes have brought about such results as are now being witnessed.

CLEVELAND A "COMMONWEALER."

There is nothing more absurd or mischievous in the assertions and purposes of the Coxeites than is to be found in the democratic literature of the campaign of 1892. As the St. Louis Globe-Democrat suggests, Mr. Cleveland has been speaking as extravagantly about the situation of the laboring people as any of these crusading "commonwealers" are talking.

He made himself president by painting in the most lurid colors the imaginary distress of the people under republican rule, and by advising them to rise in their might and demand legislation for the better distribution of profits and blessings. The chickens thus hatched are now coming home to roost.

All that the republicans in congress should demand is a reasonable time for the discussion of the Wilson bill and an opportunity to point out its follies and suggest amendments. If this time is allowed, and undoubtedly it will be, the republicans will have no cause to complain. They will have a chance to define their attitude toward the bill in a direct and honest way, so that the people can judge between them and their opponents, and this is all they can reasonably demand.

One year has passed since the present administration entered upon the work of rectifying the wrongs that party had so severely condemned. Instead of the promised improvement, the situation has grown infinitely worse. No wonder the commonwealers gathered at the capital steps to demand an explanation.

The new Iowa liquor law is not a model of wisdom, but it is working so much better than prohibition ever worked that the people are generally well satisfied with it.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

Sculptor Augustus St. Gaudens.

Augustus St. Gaudens, the sculptor whose design for a World's fair medal caused considerable discussion in the newspapers, was born in Dublin and brought to New York when only 6 weeks old. His mother was an Irish woman and his father a Frenchman. At 13 he was apprenticed to a cameo cutter. He spent his days at the bench and his evenings at the Cooper Union art schools. Within three years he was one of the best cameo cutters in the city. At 19, having saved some money, he went abroad, and in Rome modeled a "Hiawatha" which ex-Governor Morgan of New York had cut in marble. Then his success began. He made a bust of William M. Evans, and after that orders fairly flowed in upon him.

PEOPLE IN PARTICULAR.

Mark Twain will build a cottage near Fort Phenix, Mass., on a site recently presented to him.

Figures of Grant and Lincoln in high relief are being modeled in New York by O'Donovan for the Brooklyn arch.

Yang Yu, the Chinese minister at Washington, is cutting a very wide swath. His costume, carriage and mansion outshine those of any other diplomat.

Frank Russell of Cheboygan Wis., has succeeded in domesticating a sea-gull, which is now running about his farm with a brood of chickens, of no earthly use to anybody.

Lord Rosebery's son and heir, who bears the title of Lord Dalmeny, is a bright boy about 12 years old. There are also several little daughters in the big mansion in Berkeley square, London.

Evelyn Abbott, fellow of Balliol college, Oxford, has been chosen by the present master and fellows to prepare the biography of the late Professor Jowett, so long the master of Balliol.

Lady Butler is engaged on a picture of "Waterloo," which may possibly rival her wonderful "Roll Call" in public estimation. She is now settled at Aldershot with her husband, Sir William Butler, and her five children.

William Finney Teeple, who died at Manchester, Pa., a few days ago at the age of 76 years, was famous as a deer slayer. He began killing them when he was 11 years old, and is said to have shot not less than 3,000 of them.

The richest actor in the world is M. Coquelin, whose fortune is estimated at $1,000,000. Next to him, in point of wealth, is probably Henry Irving. Of actresses, Mme. Sarah Bernhardt has made the most money, and spent the most.

Smith—Is your friend Jones ever tracing any bad habits?

Brown—No; he is still on the expand.

LIGHTNING HIT MEN UNDER A BIG TREE.

FRED HANKEY AND OTTO
NICKLE PARALYZED.

One Topped Into a Creek and Would Have Drowned But For the Fortunate Coming of Robert Horn Who Had Been Chasing Runaway Horses.

His cries saved Hankey from drowning miserably. Robert S. Horn, who had been standing near them but whose horses had started to run, came back and dragged the boy from the water.

Hankey and Nickle were driving stock two miles west of Hanover and stepped under a tree to get out of the rain. The tree was struck by lightning knocking down the two boys. Hankey fell into the creek both he and his companion being stunned from the hips down. They were in this condition for about an hour afterward. Blood oozed out of Hankey's nose and ears. Nickle's face turned black and swelled.

Mr. Horn was standing under the tree when the storm began, but his team started to run and he started after them. Had he stayed under the tree Hankey would have probably perished, being pulled from the water barely in time as it was.

The creek was four or five feet deep.

Mr. Horn with the help of David Patridge and Patridge's hired man put both boys into his wagon and took them to the house of Charles Smith in the town of Rock where they had the best attention. Under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Smith the boys were brought around all right.

Unconscious from a shock of lightning Fred Hankey toppled into a creek near Hanover. By the edge of the creek lay Otto Nickle, paralyzed from the waist down and powerless to aid his companion.

MORE PERSONAL DAMAGES SOUGHT

Three Cases Waiting For a Chance In the Circuit Court.

Personal damage suits monopolize
the circuit court this term. The court has now been in session one week, and so far all the jury cases have been actions of this nature. Today the case of Hilt against the Ferris Ice Company is on the calendar to follow
the case of Manning against Wilcox.
Hilt was packing ice for the ice company last winter, being stationed on the "runway" guiding the ice blocks into the building as they were forced up the slide. The men were working in the night. Hilt, one night fell from the runway, some distance, striking on the frozen ground. He was considerably cut and bruised, so much so that the fire patrol ambulance was called to convey him to his home. He now brings suit to recover personal damages.

The personal damage suit of Selleck against the city of Janesville has been continued. The town of Fulton is defendant in a similar suit, entitled Collins against the town of Fulton which is to be disposed of at this term.

GILDED YOUTH GOES WRONG.

Forgery the Charge Against Young Arthur
Brewer of Brodhead.

Arthur Brewer, a well known Brodhead young man, is wanted for forging an eighty dollar check, using the name of William Douglas, a wealthy citizen of that village. Brewer had the check discounted yesterday, receiving seventy dollars. He then bought a suit of clothes paying twenty-five dollars. Shortly after this he was in the Young house in that village, and mistaking that the officers were after him, he disappeared, leaving his new clothes. The officers supposed that he was on the train bound for this city, and so notified Chief Acheson. Chief Acheson was at the depot when the train arrived, but Brewer was not seen. The next train brought Marshal Wells and Officer Frank Wren. The officers searched the train but no clue to the forger was obtained. It is now thought the young man is in hiding near the village, and officers have been put on watch.

POSTAL WILL RUN TO JANESVILLE.

Telegraph Authorities Writing City Clerk
Bates For Details.

The postal telegraph is likely to be extended to Janesville in the near future. T. K. Hicks, manager of the United States postal telegraph office in Rockford, is corresponding with City Clerk Bates, collecting information with respect to the extension of the lines to this point.

"The postal telegraph invariably follows the introduction of the Strowger Automatic telephone, the postal company either joining the telephone company in the erection of poles or making satisfactory leases of poles,"
said the city clerk this morning.

Mr. Bates is taking an active part in the canvass for subscribers to the automatic telephone here, and informed himself regarding all details before taking part in the agitation.

Janesville of our gents $4.00 hand sewed shoes. "Anything that may be said to the contrary by others not

THE opera Pirates of Penzance will be repeated tonight for the benefit of the hospital. Last night's performance no more than paid expenses for the production. Consequently tonight's house must bring the benefit.
Let everyone turn out and pack the house.

C. B. CONRAD contradicts the statement that he is now a resident of the Fourth ward. "I have stored my household goods in the McDougal house back of the Baptist church, but my wife and I take our meals and sleep in the Third ward. The Third ward is still my home," Mr. Conrad says.

WE write all of our own ads, and hold ourselves responsible for what we say. No misrepresentation creeps into our sayings. We will continue to be Janesville's leading shoe house, and increase our sales by "honest efforts," not by trying to mislead our patrons. Becker & Woodruff on the bridge.

W. F. HAYES, the expert optician at cago the first of the week, where he will remain several days. All those wishing anything special for their eyes will do well to see him before he goes, as he will get what you want while there. Have him examine your eyes any way, as you may learn something you do not know.

PAIL OF CITY WATER WAS WHAT HE TOOK

MARTIN HESSIAN'S CASE TO BE A TEST.

Superintendent Mitchell Swears Out a Warrant Because Water Was Taken in a Pail From the Corn
Exchange Fountain—Other Arrests
For the Same Offense to Follow.

Martin Hessian says he was cooling his palate.

Superintendent W. C. Mitchell calls it a case of stealing water.

Between the two the courts must decide.

The rule against borrowing water from public fountains or from regular consumers will at last be tested.

Superintendent Mitchell in behalf of the water company, secured a warrant for the arrest of Hessian this morning on the charge that Hessian was taking and carrying water from one of the fountains. Hessian, it was charged, had been in the habit of catching water from the Corn Exchange fountain in pails, supplying a neighboring saloon with water thus feloniously obtained.

Superintendent Mitchell is watching other parties in different parts of the city who are taking water in the same unlawful manner, and a number of prosecutions are likely to follow Hessian's.

"I cannot get whisky, because I am on the black list," said Hessian when arrested, "so now they take me for drinking water. A cow might plunge her head into a stream and take a drink without being put in jail, but a man can't."

Hessian was arraigned before Judge Phelps this afternoon, when he pleaded guilty to the charge, and was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars and costs.

SAFE FROM ARREST ARE LOCAL CHINESE

JANESVILLE CELESTIALS DO
AS GEARY SAYS.

Their Registry Has Been Attended to
By An Educated Fellow Country-
man Who Hires Them and Keeps Them in Business—Why Changes
Are so Frequent

The Chinese population of Janesville will be able to stick to their wash tubs without fear of being arrested under the Geary exclusion act which takes effect tomorrow. There are now only three celestials in the city, conducting a laundry on West Milwaukee street. These almondeyed people are controlled by a Chicago firm or boss.

"There is a man in Chicago, an educated Chinaman, who frequently comes here and looks after the Chinamen in Janesville," said Deputy U. S.
Marshal Acheson. "He takes charge of every Chinaman. When they get into trouble he comes and settles everything. If the men do not get along together he makes changes, sending another man to take the place of the one sent away. This accounts for the frequent changes here.
I think these men are all hired by the Chicago man and he looks after everything. He looks after their registration too. I have received no instructions from headquarters to enforce the Geary exclusion act, and I don't know how many Chinamen there are in Rock county."

NO PIANO IS FINER THAN THE GAZETTE'S

SHAW PIANOS ARE STANDARD
THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

Everybody Who Has Examined the Instrument at S. C. Burnham & Co's Says the Things Said in Its Favor Were Justified—Conditions of the Contest.

Nothing but praise is heard for The Gazette piano. The Shaw instruments rank in the markets of the country just as Chickering, Steinways and Knabes, the four occupying first place. Everybody who has seen the Gazette piano is enthusiastic in its praise. It has a pure ringing tone, and its action is very fine. These qualities are what would be expected of a Shaw piano and The Gazette made no mistake in choosing that instrument.

Friends of contestants show a lively interest in the success of their favorites and votes are coming in rapidly. New subscribers should be reported as fast as secured, but coupons should be tied in bundles of one hundred each and kept until the day the competition closes. Votes have been cast up to date, for the following candidates:

Baker, Bessie
Ford, Alice M.
Hedger, Rose B.
Pitt, May
Pister, Lillie
Gifford, Alice V.
Gibbs, Maria J.
Holt, Ellen Huggett, Miss Olive.
Hayward, Minnie
Kenyon, Cora
Kastner, Alice
Loucks, Franc
McNeil, Anna
Peters, Nellie
Randall, Carrie M.
Wright, Ada V.

Names of other candidates will be added as fast as votes are received. Only bona fide candidates will be allowed. The rule that nobody is permitted to enter merely to represent an organized society will be strictly enforced.

From now until the contest closes a coupon will be printed in each issue of the Gazette.

1. Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

2. Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

3. Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

6. The lady who receives the largest number of votes will receive as good and beautiful a piano as the Shaw Piano Company can make.

7. The contest will close June 30, 1894. Piano will be delivered as soon as the counting of votes is completed.

8. Any person who will bring The Gazette one new subscriber paid in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

We will be square with you, you must be square with us. No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

The polls will close at 9:00 p. m. June 30, but votes handed in before this will be duly credited. The contest will be conducted strictly "on the square." No partiality or unfair advantage will be taken or allowed in any case.

The Era of Muscle.

This is an athletic age. Everybody wants to be strong. The craze—for it has well nigh reached that stage—affects both sexes and even childhood. The pugilistic phase of this fad in young America is by no means morally promoting. But it is one thing to be endowed with vigor and another to be endowed with muscle. Super muscularity is often induced by physical effort perilous to health and calculated to shorten life. The vigor which means a regular and efficient discharge of the physical functions, is the first medium at which all may safely aim without causing ruptures or breaking blood vessels. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is largely conducive to a gain in vigor of this sort since it stimulates and assists digestion, promotes regular bilious secretion and keeps the bowels in order. Sleep, that grand recuperator of nervous vigor, is encouraged by it and it remedies malarial, rheumatic and kidney trouble.

Special Tax Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the warrant for the collection of the special assessment for extending Main street in the Third ward in the city of Janesville is now in my hands for collection and that I will receive the same at my office until the 12th day of May, 1894, after which I shall proceed to collect the same as the law directs.

Influence of Horticulture.

This was the subject of a most interesting and instructive paper lately read by Mr. Harper, custodian of the Aberdeen Duthie park, to the members of a workingmen's guild in Aberdeen. After a historical introduction, in which he referred to the Garden of Eden, Mr. Harper said the floralia the ancients survive to-day in the "battle of flowers" to be seen in Algeria and Italy. Cleopatra paid $200 for the roses employed at one banquet. The first school of gardening was the Jardin des Plantes at Paris, yet the science of horticulture was less generally known in France than in this country. Modern British gardening received its first stimulus in the reign of Henry VIII. It changed under Charles II., again under George II., and in the reign of George III. was profoundly affected by the introduction of flowering plants from North America. The establishment in 1824, of the experimental gardens at Inverleith Row, Edinburgh, did a great deal for gardening in Scotland. In our own time horticulture is slowly but surely influencing our people to a more correct taste and appreciation of beauty. The parks are being more appreciated every year; a neat flower bed commands the attention and respect even of the vulgar. Horticultural exhibitions are of the greatest use to those engaged in horticulture. Mr. Harper spoke strongly of the work of the guild in the culture of plants in houses. In the child's love of flowers we have the voice of nature; it falls into decay as vice and selfishness harden the tender heart. Speaking of open spaces in the heart of the city, Mr. Harper said they could not fail, if well kept, to be a great benefit to the whole community. A modern feature is the tasteful arrangement of autumn foliage, a form of decoration at once effective and inexpensive.

NOTES OF MODES
FOR WARM WEATHER

SPRING AND SUMMER COSTUMES FOR WOMEN.

The Tea Gown of 1894 a Subject for the Poets—Hints About Children's Dress—Miscellaneous Gossip About Styles and Fads.

WHY DOES NOT some latter-day poet of the minor description invoke his muse in praise of the tea gown? asks a writer in the Queen. Unquestionably it deserves the honor, evolving, as it does, grace from every fold and being impregnated with the essence of femininity. Take, for example, a white gown, made of the softest white-spotted satin, striped with lines of insertion, with lace falling about the shoulders and on the hips. The most aggressively masculine woman could not fail to be influenced by its daintiness. Bands of the insertion, alternating with gores of the silk, appear from the waist to the hem, while there is a soft drapery, suggestive of the panner, and the sleeves are loose and full, allowing a peep at a rounded arm, the rounded arm of course being taken for granted.

This is eminently adapted for the slim figure, while those of more liberal proportions might adopt another style, which is made in a blue moire of a novel kind, closely striped in lines, with a quaint bib-like collar round the shoulders, outlined with lace, the sleeves full to the elbow, and tucked tightly to the wrist. At the neck and below the waist appear bands of magenta-striped velvet ribbon—a striking note of color this. Crepon gowns, which would do graceful duty at breakfast time, are trimmed with insertion, and liberally trimmed, too.

An ideal gown fit to grace a trousseau has a front and back made of horizontally placed tucks of white tulle, alternating with bands of guipure, while over the shoulders fall full, loose, winglike draperies of fanciful silk crepe. More elaborate still, but no less beautiful, is a gown of green brocade with a basket-work design strewn with pink rosebuds. Panels of accordion plaiting in pale green silk crepe appear from beneath the arms to the hem, the sleeves are formed of three deep frills of the crepe, and from the shoulders hang ribbon velvets, tying at the top, brace fashion.

Tea jackets there are of a charming variety. One in pink watered silk boasts a vest of cream satin, draped with lace, turning back with broad revers and fastened on the bust with a rosette and long streamers of black ribbon. Black velvet appears, buckled with steel as the trimming on the chine silk jacket, also elaborately trimmed with lace.

The plain cloth or tweed dress always counts its admirers by the hundreds, indeed, I might write thousands. A capital notion, which lends itself to a variety of waistcoats and shirts, is a short bodice cut to simulate a man's dress coat, with a turndown collar, rounded over the chest. This buttons neatly into the waist and is completed by a plain skirt, and can be worn either with a stiff-fronted white shirt, when it is eminently manly in its suggestiveness, with a soft lace bow and cravat or with an accordion-plaited silk blouse.

A new ulster which deserves commendation shows double capes over the shoulders and a double-breasted front, and on this again appears this new shaped back, which is also to be found on cheviot coats, long, short, and three-quarter length. One example which is especially attractive is in a light shade of drab, has a Chesterfield front, and, though single-breasted, boasts broad revers. The new waistcoats include some of the worsted material with a silk spot. These are to be seen in various colors and combinations of colors, while others there are of Tattersall in varied cheeks, and others again are of

a washing drill, a light shade of powder blue among these, spotted with white and red, having special attractions.

An ideal dress for a little girl has a muslin guimpe striped with embroidery, to be worn beneath a tight-fitting cloth or serge dress, absolutely simple in detail. This is becoming to every child from the age of 3 to the age of 10, always providing that she be slim. Then for her plump sister the muslin guimpe appears to advantage beneath an Empire belt, from which hangs an accordion pleating. A pretty dancing dress is made of mauve nun's veiling in this latter style, the hem being trimmed with double rows of Valenciennes insertion, the Empire belt outlined to match. A pretty costume is of navy blue, the trimmings of light blue braided in white, and the same style also looks well in cheviot, with the half sleeves and the vest in some contrasting color in velvet. A boating dress which excites admiration is made of navy blue serge, cut into a V to the waist in the front, and sleeveless, exhibiting an under bodice falling with a large turn-down collar made of red cambric spotted with white.

Fried Ice Cream, a Philadelphia Fad.
A Philadelphia firm makes a specialty of fried ice cream, which is pronounced delicious by all who taste it. A small, solid cake of the cream is enveloped in a thin sheet of pie crust, and then dipped in boiling lard or butter long enough to cook the outside to a crisp. Served immediately, the ice cream is found to be as solidly frozen as when it was first prepared. The process of frying is so quickly accomplished and the pastry is so good a protector that the heat has no chance to reach the frozen cream.

Baked ice cream which has a meringue top is another caprice of cooks that is toothsome, though this tampering with a delicacy that is perfection when it is in its perfected, normal condition seems unnecessary. Good ice cream is as good as can be.

Speaking of the dish, a woman recalled the other day the fact that it was first introduced at the national capital by Mrs. Alexander Hamilton. She used to tell with amusement of the delight with which President Jackson first tasted it, and how he promptly decided to have it at the executive mansion. Accordingly, guests at the next reception were treated to the frozen mystery, and afforded considerable fun to the initiated by the reluctance with which they tasted it. Those from the rural districts, especially, first eyed it suspiciously, then melted each spoonful with the breath before consuming it. Their distrust was soon removed, however, and plates were emptied with great rapidity.

PINCHED FACES.

PECULIAR TO AMERICAN WOMEN.

Some of the Causes which Appear upon Investigation.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]
Ask them "What can be the matter?" and the invariable answer is, "I don't know." The eyes droop, and an air of deep gloom seems to overwhelm them. Press your questions a little closer, and you find avoidance of all society, reluctance to make the slightest effort, all accompanied with a crushing sense of bearing down.

Further investigation discloses irregularity of periods, dizziness and faintness at times, and perhaps leucorrhoea. Then surely the evidence is all-sufficient. An American woman has discovered that the cause of all this lies in a deranged and diseased uterus or womb.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most marvellous cure for this trouble ever discovered.

A purely vegetable remedy, it is at once an absolutely safe and natural cure for this crushing trouble.

It has cured thousands, and will cure you as sure as truth is truth.

Here is a letter from one of them which she wants us to publish:—

"For years I have been almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms: shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, faintness, dizziness, depression, and everything that a woman could suffer from was mine. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable compound has done more for me than all the doctors. 'I feel it my duty to tell you these facts that you also may be cured. My heart is full of gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham.'—Mrs. Harriet Wampler, Box 944, Baraboo, Wis.

G.A.R. NOTICE

We take this opportunity of informing our subscribers that the new Commissioner of Pensions has been appointed. He is an old soldier, and we believe that soldiers and their heirs will receive justice at his hands. We do not anticipate that there will be any radical changes in the administration of pension affairs under the new regime.

We would advise, however, that U. S. soldiers, sailors, and their heirs, take steps to make application at once, if they have not already done so, in order to secure the benefit of the early filing of their claims in case there should be any future pension legislation. Such legislation is seldom retroactive. Therefore it is of great importance that applications be filed in the department at the earliest possible date.

If U. S. soldiers, or their widows, children, or parents desire information in regard to pension matters, they should write to the Press Claims Company at Washington, D. C., and they will prepare and send the necessary application, if they find them entitled under the numerous laws enacted for their benefit. Address:

Press Claims Company,

FASHION AND ART JOINED.

They Get Together With Very Good Effect In Princess Gowns.

There is a great deal to be said in favor of the princess gown. It is graceful, never common looking and has an air of exclusive fashion which pertains to few other garments. It is seldom that an article of attire is both fashionable and artistic. Fashion usually shuns the studio, or mangles and garbles its effects beyond recognition, as was shown in the Greek draperies, combined with starched collar and cuffs and French corset, which were quite the mode three or four years ago. Occasionally, however, she joins forces with art, although half unwillingly and for a very brief time. The Josephine styles not yet passed out of date are a fair example of her spasmodic good taste. The princess modes are another, although she spoils these by insisting on the compressed waist as the proper form for setting them off. In mediaeval times the princess gown was the accepted dress of women. It was admirably fitted to the natural figure without any distortions of whalebone or crinoline, and with its winged sleeves falling away from the tight ones beneath, its clinging, trailing skirts caught up by being drawn through the drooping girdle, it might fairly rank with antique draperies in beauty and artistic effect. Even now, altered as it is and modified to suit our modern craving for "smartness" and "go" rather than for beauty, whose fundamental laws are changeless, it is far preferable to the round waist and belt, which cut the figure squarely in two and convert into angles whatever whalebone has left of delicately related curves.

Backed by a skillful and obedient dress-maker and money enough to buy the most expensive materials, a few women venture to consult their own taste in preference to the judgment of the multitude, but the rank and file follow my leader, as indeed moneyless women must in order not to appear shabby. What is artistic independence in brocade is dowdiness in cashmere. Since the conventional form is easy to fit and easily obtained it is not difficult for poor women to appear fashionable, and a princess gown is refined looking, even in calico.

A sketch is given of a princess costume made of taffeta silk. It is open at the side over a skirt of the same material and is slightly draped. The silk jacket has revers and collar faced with heavy cream lace. The gigot sleeves have lace cuffs, and the gown is bordered with jet.
